PERSONALIZED CARE FOR PEDIATRIC PATIENTS

Ochsner's pediatric physical therapy, occupational therapy and speech therapy programs focus on improving language and communication skills, sensory/motor function and the treatment of neurological, congenital or developmental conditions and orthopedic and musculoskeletal impairments.

The Pediatric Therapy & Wellness team specializes in addressing limitations in infants, children and adolescents. Issues addressed may be a result of genetic disorders, developmental delays, neurological or orthopedic conditions.

If your child would benefit from one or more of these individualized specialty programs, ask your doctor for a referral to see one of our pediatric therapists.

Pediatric therapy that lasts a lifetime.

PEDIATRIC PHYSICAL THERAPY

A team of specialists will focus on gross motor and functional skills. Your child may benefit from our physical therapy services if he or she has decreased mobility or delayed milestones.

PEDIATRIC OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

A team of specialists will focus on fine motor skills, visual perception skills, sensory/motor integration, self-help skills and feeding. Your child may benefit from our occupational therapy services if he or she has visual motor/tracking delays, difficulty manipulating objects or food sensitivities.

PEDIATRIC SPEECH THERAPY

A team of specialists will focus on the diagnosis and treatment of articulation delays and receptive/expressive language delays or disorders. Your child may benefit from our speech therapy services if he or she has developmental apraxia of speech or delays in phonological awareness skills.

PATIENT FEEDBACK

"My daughter really enjoys coming to speech and physical therapy, and I am so happy about her progress! The therapists are very knowledgeable and really care about their patients."
